NICK GOODERHAM,
HON TREASURER S&TA.

Overview

Nick Gooderham, Hon Treasurer S&TA, reports on our Centenary Year finances.

The Association's accounts for the year ended 31 December 2003 are set out on pages 54 to 57, and show a very modest operating surplus of income over expenditure of £4,190 (2002: £17,386). Our Centenary Year Events added a further surplus of £1,589, producing an overall increase in our book reserves. The accounts reflect the key activities and aspirations pursued by the Association, on behalf of all members, throughout the year, namely:

- a heavy agenda of working on game angling related political matters;
- ways of improving communication with regions, branches and all members;
- furthering interest and participation, particularly through education and junior training;
- the ongoing development of angling, and unity between its bodies to speak with one voice.

INCOME

The results reflect the fine balance of managing our financial resources to meet our aspirations. Whilst the outcome was within the budget (which is closely and regularly reviewed), one immediate observation is the fall in income from subscriptions, and the reduced proportion of income from members at 76 percent (2002: 79 percent), as illustrated in Figure 1. Subscription rates were last increased in 2002, and although the actual number of members has increased in the year, over 650 did so through the 'free year' offer in the Field. We very much hope that the majority of these subscribers will see the value that the Association brings to their sport, and support us in the future. As suggested by the Chairman, these figures also emphasise the need to maintain membership levels. In addition to the work and initiatives of the Membership and Marketing Committee, we all have an active role to play to promote the Association, to encourage like-minded friends and colleagues to join and support us. Easy access for membership applications can be found on our website, which all are encouraged to use, at www.salmon-trout.org

The Sport England grant of £43,000 is made to support the significant role we play in training and development, as a part of the National Angling Plan, through Malcolm Hanson, the Angling Development Officer. The grant includes £15,000 to promote Excellence, provided in the form of World Flyfishing, European, Ladies, Youth and Disabled events. As mentioned later, continuation of these grants will depend on the Association changing its status to a corporate entity, which is proposed to take effect as from 1 January 2005.

EXPENDITURE AND STAFFING

Expenditure is summarised by type in Figure 2, with a shift of costs since 2002 to education and training, communication and recruitment, and a resulting reduction in administration costs. As in that year, salary costs and related overheads have been contained within inflation. We said a sad good-bye to both Louise Byrne and Sue Hobbs towards the end of the year, but this gave us an opportunity to review staff roles and responsibilities. In November we welcomed Carmel Jorgensen and Louise Simmons, re-instating our team to seven full-time employees. Other costs are within plan, but in 2003 we separated VAT from both costs and income, leaving £7,933 as irrecoverable VAT which is shown within Note 10: other costs, on page 57.

CENTENARY EVENTS

The events included the successful conference at Greenwich, for which the papers will be published for sale in due course; the steam train journey; the dinner/auction, from which £10,000 was donated to the Salmon & Trout Trust; sale of centenary rods, reels and paperweights; and the Association's history. A few copies of this excellent book are still available for sale, should members be interested.

BALANCE SHEET AND RESERVES

Our balance sheet (see page 55) shows an increase in book reserves, including the life members' unexpired subscriptions to just over £50,000. In view of the one-off nature of the Centenary Events, the Management Council has recommended that the resulting surplus is kept separate from our usual operating reserves, and will be applied for specific purposes, to be determined. As I mentioned last year, the Association is not a profit-making organisation, but financial prudence suggests that a more substantial level of reserves is required, given potential swings in revenues and costs, to protect us 'from a rainy day'.

The accounts are drawn up with investments shown at their cost (Note 13, page 57). As shown in Table 1 to this report, the book value of reserves is enhanced by the difference between market value and the cost of investments, less tax, increasing our 'net worth' by £9,811 in the year to £100,624 at 31 December 2003.

INCORPORATION

As mentioned above, Sport England has made it clear that future grants will only be provided if the Association operates within the structure of an incorporated body. Such a move will secure a greater level of robustness with our external stakeholders, ensure continued good practice in relation to corporate governance, and provide protection to our officers and members. In most other respects, such as our name; objects and trading style; the position of members; subscriptions; and the operation of our branch network, any change will be largely cosmetic. We have formed a legal entity which is a company, limited by guarantee, and it is proposed that members of the Management Council will be the directors and guarantors, to the amount of £1 each. Further, a proposal will be brought to members at the AGM on 20 April, to transfer the assets and liabilities, rights and obligations of the Association to the company, effective 1 January 2005. This whole exercise is anticipated to be seamless, and somewhat 'behind the scenes' for the day-to-day membership activities.

THE FUTURE

2003 was the last year of our current five-year management plan, and a new Plan for 2003/07 is being drawn up. Within this framework, the 2004 budget has been approved, to provide a further surplus in the year, to contribute to the Association's future financial stability.

The results reflect the fine balance of managing our financial resources to meet our aspirations

Launching the GAMEFISHER Wine Club

The idea of our exclusive wine club is to offer members a uniquely special, knowledgeable and personal wine service, accompanied by fine quality wines at seriously competitive prices.

Graham Mitchell (bottom right), who runs the club, has over 12 years experience in the wine trade, has taken all the wine trade exams and has a regular wine slot on BBC radio. He mainly buys wines directly from the vineyards, avoids the middle man and can therefore offer members excellent value for money.

The way the club works is as follows. Once you have contacted him, Graham will get in touch with you to ask about the colour, style and price of wine which you currently prefer. He will then personally put together a couple of sample cases (12 bottles per case) to be delivered to your door at a convenient time. Thereafter, every two months, two more cases of wine carefully selected by Graham, according to your criteria, will be automatically delivered, cutting out the hassle of reordering and saving you time and money. If you don't like the wines, these will be picked up and replaced free of charge.

You will receive your own personalised tasting notes to accompany the wines, a ten per cent discount off the list price of the wines, free delivery and the cost is spread over the whole year. You will receive a complimentary invitation to a grand wine tasting each year at Vintners' Hall in the City of London. You will also be able to contact Graham for advice on any aspect of wine, including issues such as matching food and wine for that special occasion, cellar management, vintage information and wine investment advice. You will also be eligible for a discounted place on one of Graham's entertaining fine wine courses held regularly at Raffles Club in London.

The cost of this club membership is just £20 per week or £80 per month which will be collected on a direct debit mandate and which includes all the wines and all the services mentioned above.
